Get comprehensive, Individual-Use reports that read like a financial analyst report.

Why an Artist Report:

Art Auction Analytics' extensive database and proprietary analytics enables us to provide objective answers to important questions involving artists and artworks (What is the artist's Market Value? What is driving this value?). Our analytics mirror those used by financial institutions to evaluate financial assets, such as securities, bonds, and loans.

Art Auction Analytics offers two types of reports:

- Standard Artist Report: provides an estimate of an artist's or artwork's current Market Value along with Key Performance Metrics used to establish value, such as demand, volatility, correlation, and volume, among others. Our Key Performance Metrics show performance over time and are useful in framing expectations about future values. We will also provide a market value for one artwork by the artist with a purchase or appraisal price and date within the last five years.
- Custom Reports: Upon request, we will generate customized reports on the market, artists from a particular movement, groups of artists, etc., with similar analyses and metrics.

Who are they for:

Our comprehensive Individual-Use reports are designed for those who treat art as an asset class and expect quantitative data and accompanying analysis. Each report can be used individually and can be shared with up to one client.

How much do they cost:

Pricing for each Individual-Use Report is as follows:

- Standard Artist Report: Limited time offer of $299 per report; unless otherwise specified, Standard Artist Reports take 72 hours to generate.
- Custom Report: $85 per hour, initial cost and time estimate provided based on request.
